ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Over the past 12 years this has been a highly successful program providing opportunities for CAMH patients to interact with employees of various private and public sector organizations. Many employers have participated on a repeat basis as a result of the successful engagement and value experienced by their employees.

The Program has been updated to reflect the increased demand aligned with available hospital resources. The budget for these opportunities will reflect the actual costs of designing, planning and implementing these events. Employers will be afforded the opportunity to apply to the Program to participate in a variety of structured programs based on the shared needs of the company employer and CAMH. Additionally, a limited number of custom designed programs may be developed for employers tailored to address specific needs.

In some cases, companies may have already established or are developing a partnership with the CAMH Foundation. In such cases, companies may wish to consider such experiential opportunities for their employees that are aligned with their employee wellness and strategic business objectives.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The experiences shared by your employees and our patients are about wellness, creating awareness and stigma busting.

Employers

For the employer, employee participation enhances awareness about mental health and addiction conditions, treatment and research. Participation improves employee engagement, increases assurance and acceptance, enhances understanding and may enable those experiencing mental health and addictions challenges to seek out help. Employee wellness is a significant factor in reducing health care costs, absenteeism and suicide risk reduction.

Many employers have praised their program participation in terms of enhancing their employee experience and team building, being viewed by employees as socially responsible and good corporate citizens.

CAMH Patients

For the CAMH patient, participation in these experiences provides therapeutic opportunities to enhance recovery. It engages patients while on their treatment plan and focuses on positive life experiences rather than the underlying health challenges. In many cases CAMH patients are able to rebuild self-confidence and reestablish self-esteem. Patient participation is carefully evaluated to consider physical abilities and treatment status and goals.

APPLICATION PROCESS

A predetermined number of events will be offered monthly. Employers will need to submit an application to participate in one of the experiential opportunities.

Through the application process, consideration will be given to:

- Employer objectives based on the type of event requested from our catalogue;
- Number of events requested;
- Number of participants involved; and,
- Creation of enhanced awareness and understanding about mental health and addiction in their workplaces beyond participation in the event.

EVENT BUDGET

A budget for the event will be developed and recommended based on the costs associated with the requested opportunity.

Cost may include the review and evaluation of company requests, clinical care team consultation, planning, organizing and coordination of the event, staff support for patients where required, facilities set-up, purchase of supplies, equipment and/or food and refreshments, and clean up.

A portion of the budget collected is returned to the clinical care team to further acquire supplies and equipment for patient events or to organize and host patient seasonal parties and events.

BENEFITS THROUGH CORPORATE INVOLVEMENT

As Canada's leading mental health hospital, CAMH is leading the way in addiction and mental health awareness. Your organization's participation in these experiential learning opportunities provides great learning opportunities for the participants.

In addition to providing a great learning opportunity for those participants, one of the objectives of this program is to share the experiences and the learnings beyond CAMH to your workplace. This may take many forms. For example:

- You may wish to recommend this program to other departments within your organization or other organizations with whom you conduct business (partners, suppliers, customers);
- You may wish to host information sessions or lunch & learns within your workplaces to enhance understanding of and treatment of addiction and mental health challenges (we have many community partners that can assist in this regard);
- CAMH offers a variety of services and training that is available for purchase; and,
- Some organizations may have already built a relationship with our CAMH Foundation. Establishing a closer partnership with CAMH in this way may align with your organizational employee engagement or wellness strategies or other strategic objectives.

Our application form provides you with an opportunity to tell us how you can help us achieve our goal of building awareness and reducing stigma.

4. CAMH “Amazing Race” and “Unit Fun Fair” Events

Objective

These events are team based experiences. CAMH patients, corporate volunteers and CAMH staff will form teams. Warm-up games will be used to introduce team members to each other and establish comfort levels. This event aims to emphasize the value of recreation, community and shared experience in relation to breaking down social barriers, dismantling stigma, providing a level playing field and promoting opportunities to have fun in a group setting. Volunteers may team up with a unit. This event is smaller scale than the ‘Amazing Race’ style event but offers a similar leisure profile: stations would be set up across the unit, teams comprised of volunteers and clients would take turns visiting each station where they would have to complete mini-challenges. Upon successful completion of each mini-challenge, the team will acquire a stamp in their “passport”. Each team is challenged to gather as many stamps as possible in the given timeframe.

These events provide CAMH patients with an opportunity to experience the fun and enjoyment of participating in team events, especially as team-mates with corporate volunteers. For corporate participants this is an excellent team building opportunity.
